Custom Build Your Software

Custom building software for an organization has significant benefits :

- Maximizes efficiency
- Tailor made to specific requirements
- No paying for unnecessary features
- No annual license fees
- Tailor software to the organizations needs, not the other way around

Every organization is different and has its own specific needs. It does not make financial sense to restructure the way an organization works in order to suit a particular software when the software can be tailor made.

Until now, the cost of building customized software was prohibitively expensive and an option available only to large corporations .

With the advent of the high speed internet and reduced communication costs, even mid size organizations have the ability to build customized software.

Amisource has a team of over 150 skilled analysts, programmers developers and data base architects available to work for you.

From building a web site which can show case your organization, to building a sophisticated application to manage material, people and money, we can do it all. And we can do it at a fraction of the cost which others charge.

Amisource is a trusted name in the field of software development. Call us NOW at (416) 848 7480 or email us at info@amisource.com and tell us about your needs.
